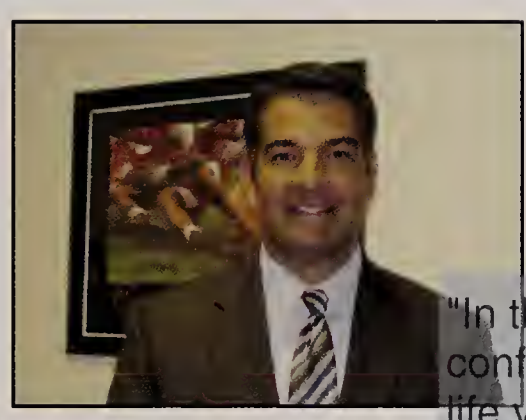
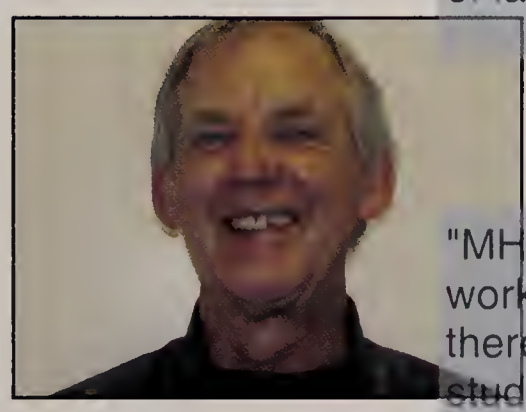
Medfield High School



"In the words of Henry David Thoreau, 'Go confidently in the direction of your dreams...live the life you have imagined'" ~Mr. Parga

"Medfield High School is and always has been a great place to work. I enjoy all the time I get to spend with the kids. The senior class provided me with a lot of laughs and a lot of great memories." ~Mr. Sperling



"MHS is the greatest place anyone would want to work in the universe! After 45 years, I don't think there's a better group of administrators, teachers, students and parents anywhere." ~Marty

Seniors 2012

"What a great four years this has been, and it was my pleasure to spend it with each and every one of you. I wish you well in all future endeavors and never forget the tremendous times we have had at this school." ~Warren Lent

"The seniors are good role models- they're spirited, and always look like they're having a good time. I just wish that they interacted with the underclassmen more." ~Haley Tschirch

"To the class of 2012...you're bright, you're charming, you're capable, and you have my heart. One characteristic I see in so many of you is passion for what you believe. Never lose that passion. And never lose your keys. Godspeed." ~Mr. Mandosa

Natasha Domeshek

December 17, 1993 - September 5, 2002

Natasha was and always will be remembered as an example of pure kindness. She touched the lives of everyone she met, and her legacy continues to touch others through the Angel Run. In eight short years, she did more good for the world than most people will do in a lifetime. She will always be remembered as a member of the Class of 2012. "We can't call people without wings angels, so we call them friends" - Anonymous

The Angel Run

The Angel Run is a 5k fun run/walk that has been a tradition in Medfield since 2005. It is a community fundraiser which brings together Medfield in a spirit of joy and celebration. Money raised helps local families in need and aids the Natasha Domeshek Scholarship which will be awarded to a member of the Class of 2012. This year's run set two records: 1,500 registrants and the warmest Angel Run yet!

Although the football team ended with a record of 2-9, they had a great season. There were many injuries, but new players stepped up to the challenge. An unfortunate downside to the season was the knee injury of senior, David Landy, a strong player in the past for the program. The Thanksgiving and the Homecoming games had great turn-outs. Medfield students demonstrated their Warrior pride by decking out in blue and white and cheering loudly all season. Look out for the warriors next year!

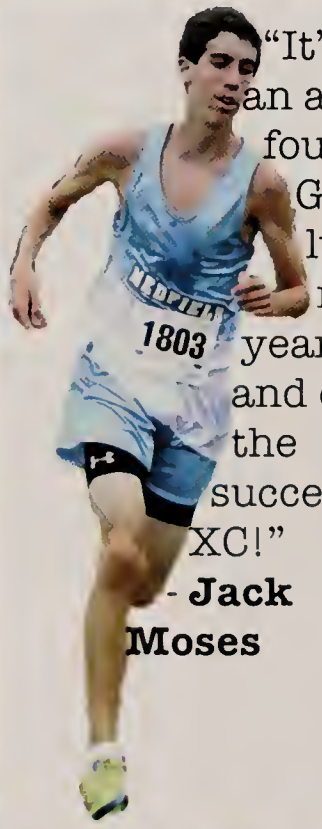
The Boys Cross Country team ended their season winning all but one meet. The boys worked extremely hard throughout the season. They placed 6th in the Division 5 MIAA Eastern Cross Country Divisional Championship in Boston. Jack Moses and Ian Robertson qualified for the MIAA All-State meet. The team had a season full of new traditions, life-long memories, and success, which will be remembered for years to come.



"It's been an amazing four years. Good luck next year and continue the success of XC!"
- Jack Moses

The story of plank:

Captain Jack Moses has started a new tradition for boy's XC, known as plank. The concept is simple: a wooden plank with a face, used for stretching the hamstring and calf muscles. At first, it was only Jack who had a yellow plank. Sadly, it was stolen. As divisionals were quickly approaching, he needed to act fast if he wanted his good luck charm present. This he did. Not only did he make himself a new blue plank, but the rest of the varsity team as well. Although the team is extremely happy with their "new best friends", they are still on the hunt for the original plank theif.

"Congrats on the TVL title and on our amazing season, boys. Don't forget... Friday is Short Shorts Friday. Best of luck next year."
- Evan Berry

The Girls Cross Country team was very successful this year. With only one loss throughout the whole season, the girls were crowned co-champions of the TVL, along with Dover-Sherborn. Two of the varsity runners, Taylor Worthy and Ashley Campisano, represented Medfield at the All-State meet. From trudging up treacherous Hospital Hill, to easy lopes along Steven Lane, the girls not only built up their endurance, but also a family within the team. Congratulations seniors! Next year the legacy will continue on.

Remember When You Were 17...?

When I was 17, I would go to the Rock Quaries in Milford and jump off the cliffs into the water. - Mr. Penn

When I was 17 in high school, I was very active in sports, had a pretty big afro, and drove a suped up volkswagon van with lightning bolts on the side. I loved funky music and disco and enjoyed dancing... Great times!! - Mr. Coutinho

When I was 17 at Dover-Sherborn, I was the only girl on the men's golf team, and I was undefeated. I drove a 1994 gold Oldsmobile, and my friends were embarassed to ride with me. Never in a million years did I think I would be teaching at Medfield... But I love it!! - Ms. Karr

When I was 17 growing up in Jersey, my friends & I used to cut school to go to the shore or to NYC for the day. It helped to develop our cultural experiences beyond all of our academic commitments.. :) - Mrs. Drew

Looking back, I thought I was a lot cooler than I actually was! - Ms. Alland

Remember China!

From October 20th - November 9th, Senior Meghan Keleher and Sophomores Jack Kiley and Katrina Simon took the trip of a lifetime when they traveled to Bengbu, China! They lived with host families and attended a local middle school for 2 full weeks. They also traveled around China visiting Shanghai, Nanjing and the famous Yellow Mountains.

Meghan Keleher takes part in a Chinese tradition, eye massaging. Students in Chinese schools take 5 minutes out of their afternoons to "de-stress" by relaxing their eye muscles.

Jack Kiley shows off his basketball skills in a faceoff against Bengbu High School's star athlete. Much to the students dismay, they were up against the top basketball players in the city. Thankfully, Jack's height held their team together!

Life, in many ways, is a test and somehow you have managed to either figure out the answers or know which ones are important. All of your accomplishments have been your own and on your own terms. Since you were young, you defined these terms and have stayed true to them. For that, we could not be more proud. Maintain your convictions and your passion for learning. We're looking forward to seeing you enter the next chapter of your life.

You are a son, quite honestly, that words can't describe or seem to place when trying to capture everything that is you. But, we'll give it a try. You are athletic, compassionate, and sincere to name just a few attributes. There is one quality you have that is a gift- You make people feel so much better about themselves after spending time with you. People can be genuine and real around you, friends, parents, coaches, and family. Saying we are proud of all your accomplishments is true. But we are saying we are so proud of the person that you are growing up to be. And we love you very much. Love, Dad, Mom, Dave + Mike Sean, where does the time go? It feels like you should be starting kindergarten, not college.

You have an amazing ability to choose to stand in the background and elevate others for success, or to equally be in the forefront, of whatever you are doing, and feel just as comfortable. Your gentle spirit and big heart are gifts that not many have the good fortune to have, and more importantly, to use. Your caring approach coupled with your good sense of humor puts those around you at ease and has enriched our life immeasurably.

Embrace these attributes as you move forward as they have, and will continue to serve you well. Have fun, study hard and enjoy college!

jamie weldon

Jamela, you did it! I cannot believe you're graduating high school and starting the next chapter of your life. I remember holding (and dropping) you as a baby. I couldn't wait to be able to share secrets, shopping and fun with you. It seems like we were just tricking each other into eating whole tomatoes, wearing matching Easter dresses, and performing songs on our kitchen chairs for Mom & Dad. You've grown so much since our Hearthstone days. Here's my sisterly advice as you leave Medfield: Don't waste time on closed minded people, there are too many amazing friends waiting to be found. Be happy & never live with regrets. If you want to try something new or live far away, I'll be there for you. Just be sure you do things for the right reasons. Don't worry about not feeling "grown-up" yet, I still don't. Travel as much as possible. Go to out-of-state football games, study abroad, and take spring break road trips with your friends. Call Mom at least once a week, she likes to know you're alive. Remember, almost anything can be washed with cold water on permanent press. And the most important piece of advice' Phone. Wallet. Keys. Say it with me: "Phone. Wallet. Keys." Congrats Little Jamie! Time to take the world by storm, Love Love Love, Callie

jamie weldon

To Our Sweet Baby Jamie ~ from the moment God delivered you onto this earth, you made our world complete. With your big, toothless smile and open heart you blessed us with the true meaning of unconditional love. Your dedication to family inspires us all to be better people. We admire tremendously the determination, integrity, and unique insights that define your character. These qualities will take you far (but hopefully not too far) as you continue on life's journey. Keep striving to "be the change you wish to see in the world" ~ Gandhi. We love you & miss you already, Mom, Dad, Callie & Duchess oxox
PS: Time you knew; we didn't really "have to" buy you at Shaw's because Daddy knocked you off a shelf.
Did we also mention your outstanding sense of humor??

We love you Leanne!

Here's to the crazy ones, the misfits, the rebels, the troublemakers, the round pegs in the square holes... the ones who see things differently
-- they're not fond of rules... You can quote them, disagree with them, glorify or vilify them, but the only thing you can't do is ignore them because they change things... they push the human race forward, and while some may see them as the crazy ones, we see genius, because the ones who are crazy enough to think that they can change the world, are the ones who do.

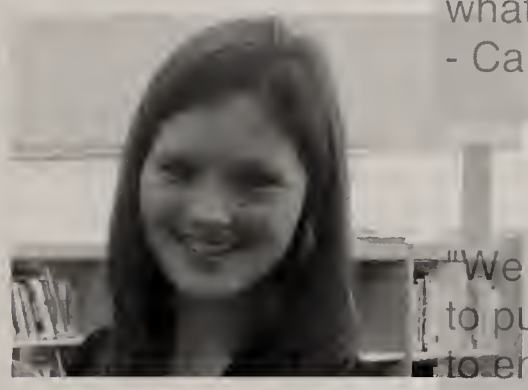
Medfield High School

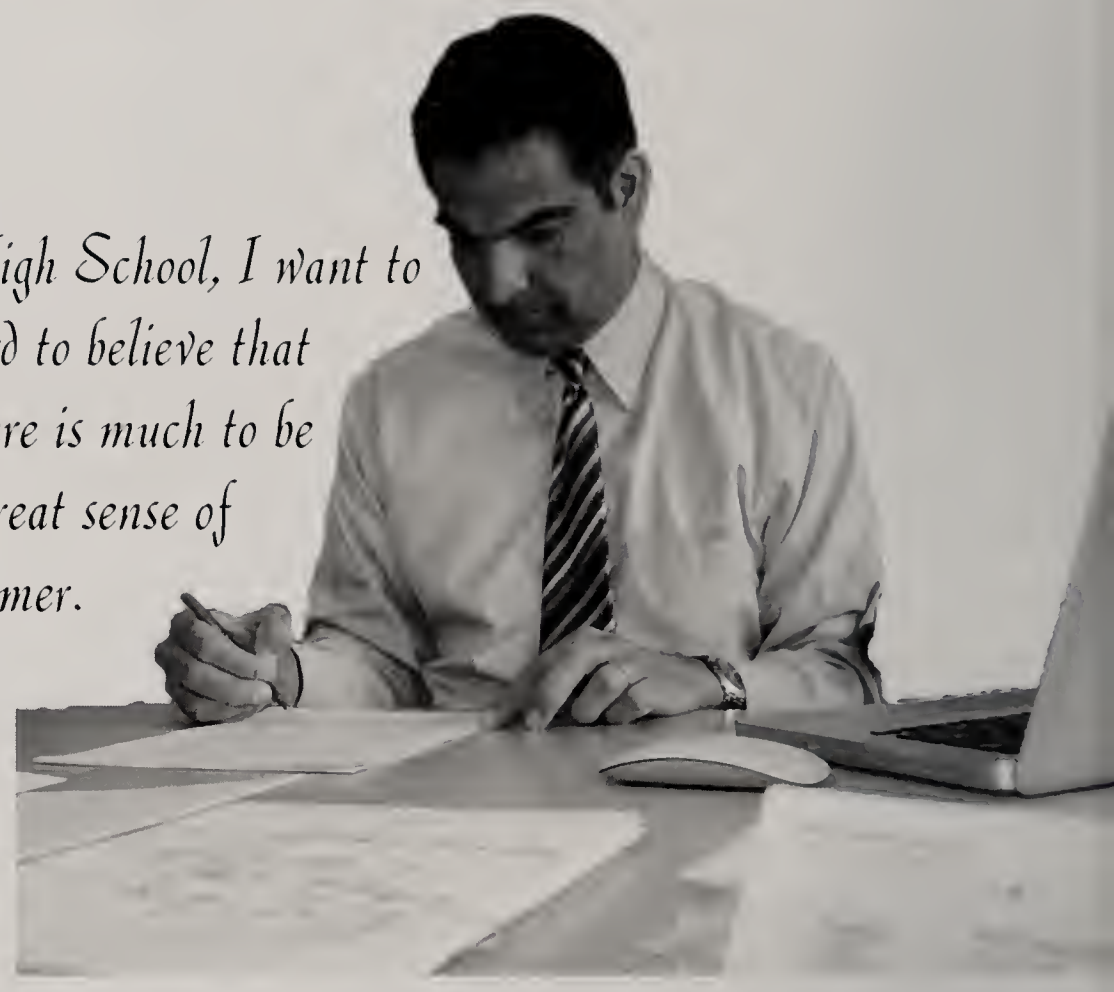
"I really wanted to take advantage of what I learned from Yearbook Camp and spice up the old traditions. The use of new text ideas and artistic touches are what really make this yearbook unique."
- Caroline Sloan (Editor)



"We really altered our yearbook this year. We wanted to put an artistic spin on it by using different elements to enhance its design. But ultimately, our goal is to represent Medfield High School as best we can."
-Amanda Kane (Editor)

"It all started with Yearbook Camp (Cheerleading camp without the jumping)! We learned sooo much- from cut-outs to selective color; we tried to unite the school with the most original book EVER!!!"
-Kimberly Knowles (Editor)

A Note from the Principal...



Dear Students:

On behalf of the staff at Medfield High School, I want to thank you for a wonderful year. It is hard to believe that this school year has come to an end. There is much to be proud of and my hope is that you feel a great sense of accomplishment as you head into the summer.

To the underclassmen…I encourage you to continue to look for opportunities to become engaged in this wonderful learning community. Challenge yourself and make sure you take advantage of all that MHS offers. There are clubs, art and music programs, sports and student government, all designed to provide you with great learning experiences outside of the classroom. Get involved and stay involved and most importantly, let us know how we can help you achieve success.

To the seniors…thank you for a great year. It was my absolute pleasure to have the opportunity to work with you once again. You consistently demonstrated your commitment to excellence and personal success. You led by example and showed our community the importance of integrity and respect in all that you do. I am proud of each of you and sincerely wish you much success as you head off to new and exciting challenges.

I hope you all have a safe and enjoyable summer vacation.
